

Museum open: Wednesday - Sunday 10am-5pm

What's on at the Museum and online

Spring 2022

Pop up exhibition: The Evolution of Medicine through Warfare
How military conflict and the advancement of medicine have evolved side by side. A deep-dive digital presentation supports a pop up display, object trail, and families' survival challenge.

Supporting online exhibition available on our website.

Special events: Last Friday of the month: joint ticket and talks with The Old Operating Theatre, London Bridge.

Summer 2022

Exhibition: Falklands at 40

A new cabinet of artefacts will be unveiled looking at the 1982 conflict 40 years on, including: a historic background to the hostilities, the critical work of the Blues and Royals, and reflections of the personal experiences of those on the front line. Keep an eye out for a families competition announcement and our on site 'Listening Post' plus Oral History project.

Special focus: Platinum Jubilee celebrations

Complete our on-site Platinum Jubilee worksheet, attend our 'Crowning Around' workshop, and join us on Horse Guards Parade for the 70th anniversary commemorations.

Further details can be found at www.householdcavalry.co.uk and via

What's on at the Museum and online

Summer 2022 continued

Exhibition: Waterloo: Archaeology of the Battlefield
June to September 2022

Waterloo summer 2022 starts with a new Virtual Battlefield Tour and ends with a Napoleonic and Revolutionary War Graves Charity conference at the National Army Museum. Also, back by popular demand, our Waterloo walking tour 'The Eagle has Landed', and family focused Eagle Trail and Eagle Challenge.

Pop up exhibition: Summer Shelter Challenge
Summer 2022

Learn the fundamentals of seeking and creating shelter in our on site pop up tent and rise to the challenge of creating your own.

Pop up exhibition: Hyde Park Bombing
Summer 2022

Remembering this tragic event on home soil, 40 years on. A new digital display of personal memorabilia supports our cabinet of historic and commemorative artefacts and a rare opportunity to see the saddle of Sefton, one of the horses that survived the attack.

Further details can be found at www.householdcavalry.co.uk and via

